ABOUT

About Luis

ELEVATOR PITCH

International jazz vocalist and pianist on Cellar Music. Bilingual English and Spanish, with thirty-five years on stages from the Beverly Hilton to Java Jazz Festival.

BIO

Luis Giraldo is a bilingual jazz vocalist and pianist based in Vancouver, performing in English and Spanish on cruise lines, festival stages, and concert halls across the Americas.

Born in Montreal and raised in Bogotá, Luis came to jazz through a route few singers can claim. A Colombian high-school rock band in 1991. The Colombian presidential marching band. Recording and stage work alongside Andrés Cepeda, Ana y Jaime, and Piyo Jaramillo of Compañía Ilimitada. A Sony Music rock band, Poligamia, that toured Latin America in the late 90s. A stint as keyboardist and backing vocalist for Shakira, with 40+ shows across North, Central, and South America. The cruise ship rooms where he later played nightly jazz standards drew the line in the sand — and the conversion was complete.

Since 2002, Luis has released four studio albums as a vocal jazz artist. The most recent two — Ready, Willing & Able (2023) and I'm Old Fashioned (2024) — were co-produced with Cory Weeds at the Rudy Van Gelder Studio in Englewood Cliffs, NJ — the same room where John Coltrane, Miles Davis, and Thelonious Monk recorded — with New York sidemen including Ben Paterson, Chris Flory, Ed Cherry, Neal Miner, and Jason Tiemann.

His repertoire pairs the Great American Songbook and modern swing with Bossa Nova and Latin standards, drawing on his Colombian roots to land equally in English-speaking and Spanish-speaking rooms. He has performed on Royal Caribbean, Seabourn, and Disney cruise lines, and continues to lead his own band in the Greater Vancouver area. Thirty-five years on stages and counting.

PRESS

“He hosted the entire programme and performed with two of our bands seamlessly. A total professional. I look forward to working with him on more events.”

JOSH JOSÉ WILLIFORD · ACOUSTIC SPOT TALENT

Beverly Hilton — Los Angeles, December 2025.

Three formats, by room and occasion

PROGRAMME I.

Main Stage

A full-evening concert, sequenced and arranged. Solo piano-vocal at the low end, full big band at the top, with trio, quartet, and quintet configurations in between. Great American Songbook standards, golden-age pop, swing-era favourites, Bossa Nova, romantic ballads, and bilingual repertoire in English and Spanish.

Ideal for: Main-theatre productions · Captain's cocktail receptions · Formal gala evenings · Sea-day featured entertainment · Festival main stages · Awards-show hosting · Corporate galas

PROGRAMME II.

Jazz & Bourbon: A Curated Tasting

An adults-only sensory experience pairing premium spirits with intimate piano arrangements. Luis is both jazz player and bourbon enthusiast, discussing aging, flavor profiles, and the unexpected parallels between distillation and phrasing while performing live at the piano. Designed as an educational, ticketed format rather than background music with drinks.

Format: Intimate groups of 20–40 guests · Exclusive lounges and specialty bars · Marketed as “An Evening of Jazz & Bourbon with International Guest Entertainer Luis Giraldo”

PROGRAMME III.

The Aficionado's Dinner

A host-led specialty-dining format for jazz enthusiasts. Luis sits with the table as conversational guide — stories from a career that includes recording at Van Gelder Studio and touring with Shakira, plus discussion of the players on the records.

Format: Single table of 8–12 guests · Specialty restaurants and Captain's Table alternatives

PROGRAMME IV.

Guest Jazz Night

Luis joins your house band for an evening in a lounge or specialty venue. Comfortable in a guest-sit-in role — bringing repertoire and improvisational flexibility, not disrupting the regulars' set.

Ideal for: Late-night programming · Sea-day enhancements · Specialty venue activation · No lift on the main-stage production schedule

What buyers tend to find useful

Pedigree with reach

Van Gelder Studio sessions and a touring history with Shakira sit alongside a repertoire that travels across generations and languages — useful background when programming for mixed audiences.

Programming, not just performance

The Jazz & Bourbon and Aficionado's Dinner programmes treat the set as a curated experience rather than background music — helpful when an enrichment or ticketed slot is on the schedule.

Built for multi-night runs

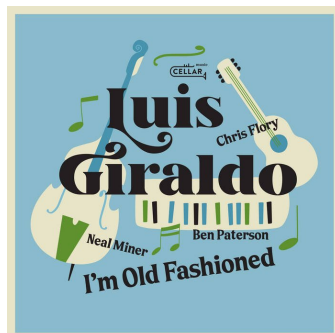

Four programme formats and a deep chart library — main stage, intimate guest set, ticketed tasting, host dinner — give programmers options without setlist repeats across a 7-day voyage.

Operationally straightforward

Direct collaboration with entertainment directors. Engraved, sight-readable charts. Clear contracts.
